Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24.

Refusal to Postpone Brown's Trial.
 CHARLESTON, Va. Oct. 27.

Brown was brought into Court this morning, being able to walk, but immediately laid himself down upon his cot, at full length, within the bar. He looks considerably better, the swelling having left his eyes. Messrs. Harding and Hunter represent the Commonwealth and Botts and Greene the prisoner. Mr. Botts read the following despatch received this morning:

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 27, 1859.—"To T. F. Faulkner and Lawson Botta, Charleston, Va.: John Brown, leader of the insurrection at Harper's Ferry, and several of his family, have resided in this county many years. Insanity is hereditary in that family. His mother's sister died with it, and a daughter of that sister has been two years in the Lunatic Asylum. A son and daughter of his mother's brother have also been confined in the Lunatic Asylum, and another son of that brother is now insane and under close restraint. These facts can be conclusively proven by witnesses residing here, who will doubtless attend the trial, if desired. (Signed) A. L. Lewis."

The telegraph operator at the Akron office, Wm. C. Allen, adds to the above despatch that A. H. Lewis is a resident of that place, and his statements are entitled to implicit credit.

Old Brown said that the despatch was partly true he knew, and as to some of it he did not know. But as for himself, he was not crazy, and scorned to take any advantage of such a plea!

His requests to postpone trial until his mind and body were in better order, and until he could get counsel from Ohio of his own choosing, were both refused. This looks as though the court were not so well inclined, as they first appeared to be, to give him a fair trial. There is no danger of a rescue, but they have had some 80 men to guard Brown and the other prisoners!

Brown found guilty.

Notwithstanding the proof and universal belief that John Brown is measurably insane—notwithstanding he is so wounded and weak that he can but walk—the trial was pushed headlong, and in two weeks from the time of the offence he is found guilty of treason, insurrection, and murder in the first degree. They might as well have added a dozen more crimes, and brought him guilty of all, at one swoop. He received the verdict as carelessly as he has all along been.

At first, he refused any counsel—then accepted two from Virginia, who he afterwards disowned. At last, Messrs. Chilton from Washington, Hoyt from Boston, and Griswold from Cleveland, came to aid him, but could do nothing, every technical point being overruled against them. He is sentenced to be hung, 2d Dec. next.

—The trial of Coppee, or Copeland, (black) has commenced. Cook and Stevens (whites) are to be tried. The evidence is probably the same against all.

FREEMAN.—Perhaps a dozen years ago a previously harmless colored man in the interior of New York, named William Freeman, stole a horse, committed a most outrageous homicide, ran away, was taken up, and summary vengeance against him was with difficulty suppressed. Wm. H. Seward learned that, some months before, he had been brutally assaulted on the head, and was convinced that his brain was deranged by the blow. Alone and unpaid, derided and booed at, Seward volunteered to defend the friendless man, and did for days, contending that he should not be hung but sentenced to a mad house or insane asylum. He was condemned, but Seward baffled the execution of the decree until Freeman died a stupid idiot, and then everybody confessed that Seward had been right from the first—John Brown's mind has received as severe a wound—as had a shock—as Freeman's had received from a tailor's board.

KAGI, one of the insurgents at Harper's Ferry, who was killed, was a needy foreigner, and once corresponded for the New York Tribune from Ohio and Kansas. He was not their "regular correspondent," (who was Mr. Phillips) but they paid him $5 each for seven of his letters which they published some months ago, and nothing for what they did not publish. They disclaim all responsibility for him any more than for thousands of others who write to them. This explodes that bubble.

Mr. GREELY once notified John Brown that there were some letters for him at his office; and that, he states, is all he ever had to do with him personally. Greely supposed Brown was in Canada, when he turned up in Virginia. Brown also took the Tribune, and read the Bible. That is the "proof of Greely's complicity with Brown." Is not this, strong proof?

John Brown is said to be the father of twenty-two children—of whom, two sons were inhumanly killed in Kansas, and a daughter died of domestic sufferings caused by the Border wars; and two sons were killed with him at Harper's Ferry. In the War of 1812, old Brown fought the British at the battle of Plattsburg, and bore an excellent character until the Kansas War maddened him.

GERRIT SMITH is also attempted to be thrust upon our party as a proof of sympathizing with Brown. The Louisville Journal does not believe he is guilty—but, whether or not, he is no Republican.

In 1844, he voted in getting up the Birney vote in New York which took away enough votes from Clay to elect Polk.

In Congress, Smith did not act with the moderate Anti-Slavery men, but was always ultra and impracticable.

He is reported to have made a speech in favor of acquiring Cuba.

Gerrit Smith was not nominated by the Republicans for Congress. He ran as an independent candidate, in 1852, several years before the Republican party was organized. The district in which he ran was composed of Oswego and Madison counties, and the vote, at the time he was elected, stood as follows:

	Whig,	Dem.	Smith,
Congress	5,620	6,206	8,019
President	7,751	8,408	3,733

These figures show clearly that Pierce had a majority in the district that elected Smith!

In 1850, while some who had been Abolitionists moderated enough to vote for Fremont, Smith would not, and over his own name says, under date of "Petersburgh, Oct. 25, 1850," he did not vote for Fremont.

Last fall, Gerrit Smith ran as the Abolitionist candidate for Governor of New York, doing his best to defeat the Republicans, and being thereunto aided and encouraged by the Democrats.

In a large gathering in New York, principally of Democrats, there were about fifteen hundred men who rose in a body and promised to vote for him; yet there were less than sixty votes for him counted off! They fooled him badly; yet some think he is now in this scheme to aid them in getting up a new scarecrow to beat the Republicans.

This is the kind of "Republican" that Gerrit Smith is!

A Card.

While coming to this city, on Saturday I first read a telegraph dispatch, from Washington, saying "that John Brown (the prisoner captured at Harper's Ferry)," refused, in the presence of Senator Mason and Messrs. Faulkner and Vallandigham, to answer the question, whether he had consulted Mr. Giddings about his Virginia expedition?"

It is evident that the object of these gentlemen was not to obtain facts on which to predicate a charge of crime or of any immoral or dishonorable act. Had such been their object they would not have published what was not said; but they proclaim their suspicions, and by such insinuations and insinuations seek to impugn the character of one who was not present.

To the public I will say that Brown never consulted me in regard to his Virginia expedition, or any other expedition, or matter whatever. J. R. GIDDINGS.

Girard House, Phila., Oct. 24, 1859.

Those who know Mr. Giddings, will receive his solemn assertion as truth. The Loco press are reviving and putting in his mouth other false statements. They say he gave Brown $300, which also is false, but he did publicly give Brown $3 at a time when the latter visited and spoke at Giddings' home in Ohio. It was given without any knowledge or suspicion of this raid upon Slaveholders.

Mystery Solved.—The Harper's Ferry escape is a riddle as well as most egregious folly. The Baltimore Patriot "has reliable intelligence that Gov. Willard, a shrewd Democratic leader in Indiana, is brother-in-law of Capt. John E. Cook. Cook it is said was first prompted to inveigle the excited, revenge-seeking Brown, with his weak-minded followers, into the net thus spread for them, and then to desert them, with the assurance that he (Cook) should be let off scot-free, if he should not escape. Willard is now at Charleston, and Cook is to be used as State's evidence, on condition of his release. This will probably explain the suppression of that letter by Gov. Floyd. The whole outbreak, it is now believed in Washington, was contrived solely with a view to operate politically upon the elections in New York and Maryland. We thought as much from the beginning. The public are requested to keep their eye on Cook, and see whether he is not released."

The above—from a Slave State journal—is worthy of reflection. No true Republicans, it is certain, would set up such a ridiculously foolish effort, so contrary to all their principles and their professions.

This Capt. Cook contrived to be outside of danger, at the trying moment—escaped into Pennsylvania—was concealed for some days—discovered, upon a heavy reward being offered—and was forthwith surrendered by Gov. Packer, upon a requisition from Gov. Wise. He is much more guilty in the matter than old Brown, for he has not had the horrible provocations Brown had, and his mind is cooler. Let us see what use the Democracy will make of him.

NOR TRUE.—The Boston Transcript says: "The charge that the arms of the Emigrant Aid Company were used by Captain Brown, in his insurrection at Harper's Ferry, is devoid of truth. We have the best authority for stating that 'the company has never invested a dollar in cannon or rifles, in powder or lead, or in any of the implements of war, for use in Kansas or anywhere else.'" [But Brown at close of the Kansas war, got hold of many of the arms sent in to aid the settlers in defeating the Border Ruffians.

State Election in Maryland, last Wednesday. There was some rioting and shooting in Baltimore, as usual for some years past; but the Opposition carried the day, in spite of John Brown and the "irrepressible conflict."

The Public Schools of Union County. The duty of examining the teachers of this county, is once more performed. The number of persons who manifested their willingness to serve as teachers in our public schools, was One Hundred and Twenty-Three. Fourteen of these, had County Certificates; and ninety-seven of these examined received Provisional ones, varying from No. 1 to No. 3. Those applicants whose attainments fall below the medium, received none. I was obliged to take this step for this reason: heretofore, nearly every one who had a certificate, no matter of what grade, was almost certain to get a school, in some district—if not on the merits of his certificate, because he was willing to "keep school" for a small compensation, which in some parts was considered of more importance to the taxpayers than the qualifications of the schoolmaster. Besides this, the teacher's low grade was generally reconciled with the common opinion that a "very poor" or neglected school required but little skill or attainments on the part of the instructor. But our people are waking up on this point, and now see that those long-neglected schools require the most efficient teachers. Four years ago, I found many schools in which "the scholars had never studied no Geography nor Grammar," therefore the teacher didn't need to know nothing of those branches neither." But this fall I found but one.

The average of the grade of certificates granted this fall, proves that the teachers generally have improved very much in their attainments during the past year, or, that the examinations have been less rigid. None have openly charged me with having too low a standard. But a number of applicants after looking over the list of questions, &c., intended for the written part of the examination, seemed to say by their action that they considered them "too hard," and therefore concluded to leave teaching to those who could answer and explain them. If the most experienced and efficient of those who applied for schools in this county, found employment in our schools, we will have reason to look for much improvement in them during the present school year. I hope we may not be disappointed in any of them.

In looking over the field of labor, and summing up all the evidences for and against the improvement of our schools, we find the account stands decidedly in favor of progress—and progress, too, that will stand investigation—progress, that will be more appreciated by the next generation than by the present. We have not claimed Railroad speed improvement in our schools, for we were obliged to build the road first. Every person who has given this subject any close attention, will have observed that the schools, not only in this county but throughout the State, have heretofore improved just in proportion as the people were willing to yield hearty obedience to the requirements of the School Law, and were found ready to give the system a fair and impartial trial, by adopting such means as were designed to promote the interests of the schools and the education of the rising generation. That, on the other hand, the schools remained in the same stereotyped condition just in proportion as a general hostility prevailed against the system and those means which were calculated to elevate the schools in which minds and hearts are to be elevated and improved.

We have already spent millions of dollars, in Pennsylvania, to prove that schools can not prosper without the personal influence of parents and patrons in favor of them. If the parents are opposed to the teachers or his plans, and manifest that opposition to their children, they might almost as well keep them at home, for it would be better for them and for the school. A few insubordinate scholars, encouraged by their parents, will do more harm to a school than good to themselves. On the contrary a word "fifty spoken in favor of the teacher, for the encouragement of the pupil," is like a pebble into the ocean—the influence will be interminable.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Monitor officially announces that on the 17th a treaty of peace was signed at Zurich between France and Austria.

Referring to the contemplated European Congress, the Paris correspondent of the London Times says eleven powers will meet, viz: the five great powers, Sardinia, Spain, Sweden, Portugal, Naples and Rome.

The London Post says that negotiations for a Congress are daily going on, it being much easier to plan a Congress than to complete the necessary preliminaries.

England is pledged to enter no Congress unless the independence and free action of Central Italy are previously understood to be guaranteed. It is understood that the question of the Lombard debt was left to the arbitration of the King of the Belgians.

YESLIANT, Mich. Oct. 29.—The State Normal School building, with two libraries, its furniture, and the laboratory, was consumed by fire last night. The loss is estimated at $25,000, and is insured for $10,000.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29.—The office of the Newport (Ky.) Free South Paper, of Republican principles, was mobbed last night, and the forms of type scattered in the street.

A Harrisburg correspondent of Forney's Press, says: "It seems to be the general impression here, and is reported as confirmed by word from the west, that the signal ability and popularity of the present State Treasurer, Hon. Eli Sifer, together with the fact of a familiar precedent in other similar cases, will insure his re-election."

To the Tax Collectors of Union County. My time will soon expire, I wish Collectors to bear in mind that my account with the State and County must be settled by the 1st of Jan. 1860, and I hope all Collectors will have their accounts settled by that date. By reference to my books, I have not yet received quite $2000 of the County Tax, although some of my good friends insinuate that I have been shaming County Orders. On the contrary, I have advanced $1000 out of my own pocket to oblige friends that held Orders against the County. I hope every Collector will pay attention to this request, so that the Juries may be paid in cash at Dec. Court. A word to the wise is sufficient.

H. P. SELLER, Treas.
 N. B. All taxes, (School, Road, Poor, &c.), that can not be collected and are to be entered against the property, must be done on or before the 1st day of Jan. 1860, as after that time, the law prohibits it being a lien.
